Stress Is Killing Your Brain

First, the bad news: Newly published research has concluded that chronic stress – even everyday, “ordinary” stress – can adversely affect the prefrontal cortex, which is called the “thinking area of the brain.” Even worse, stress can produce brain atrophy in the hippocampus, which is the part of the brain that’s crucial to long-term memory.

Now, the good news: Relacore Extra Brain Booster is an innovative new formula from The Carter-Reed Company,TM America’s leader in stress mitigation. It isn’t just another “memory” pill. Realizing that excess stress can literally hijack your brainpower, causing a decline in your working memory and seriously weakening your intellectual performance, the stress experts at Carter-Reed developed Brain Booster to specifically target stress-related memory loss and mitigate the negative effects of stress on your brain.[†]

How it works: Brain Booster’s key ingredients are actually capable of addressing the underlying cause of stress-related “brain fatigue”... stress... to help protect against cognitive decline, thus enhancing both your focus and your intellectual performance. So if stress is the culprit, Relacore Brain Booster may be the solution... specifically formulated to address stress-related memory loss and poor information processing associated with excess stress so you feel sharper, full of energy, and able to perform at your very best.[†]

Don’t let stress kill your brain. Fight back with Relacore Brain Booster, from America’s leader in stress mitigation.

You’re going to love what “Brain Booster” can do for you!
