

Directions: For an invigorating infusion mix one teaspoonful of this wild-source, pulverized tea in a cup of hot water, adding whole organic milk and honey, if desired, stir as needed, and drink as a whole food tea. Also add a heaping teaspoonful or two to bath water for a vitalizing effect.

Lovely-Larch Tea infusion is the power of wild, remote-source larch/tamarack bark. Both the outer and inner bark are used. This is done in an environmentally safe way through careful harvesting of already-peeled bark, plus the bark of fallen trees. This is a nutrient-dense tea and is a natural source of enzymes, plant sterols, minerals, antiseptic terpenes, and vitamins. Drink your Lovely-Larch Tea for the vitality that only raw, wild nature can provide. An excellent source of natural arabinogalactans.
