

GU® ENERGY GEL

WHEN: TRAINING & RACING

Created for daily training and competition, GU Energy Gel packs energy-dense calories in a portable packet to help sustain energy demands of any duration or activity. The 100-calorie packet contains carbohydrates (maltodextrin and fructose) that use non-competing pathways to help maximize carbohydrate absorption and utilization while diminishing stomach distress. The primary electrolyte (sodium) aids in hydration by maintaining water balance. The branched-chain amino acids (leucine, valine, isoleucine) may reduce mental fatigue and decrease muscle damage.

ABOUT US

Since 1993, we've combined heart and science to create performance nutrition products for ourselves and for our passionate community of endurance athletes. We know the sacrifice it takes to train for glory and the heart-breaking failures that are the building blocks of true athletic accomplishment. From our headquarters in Berkeley, CA, we approach what we do with the same humility and hunger for greatness we've learned from you. Our purpose is to assist, educate and inspire you to achieve your highest athletic potential.
