

COLLAGEN is the main structural element of the body's tissue. From skin and bones, to hair and nails; it is necessary for their growth and health. As we age, the body does not produce as much.

Adding collagen can help support collagen production in the body, which can help support healthy hair, nails, skin, and bones.

- Helps support skin
- Helps support hair growth and health
- Helps support nail growth and health
- Helps support strong bones, cartilage, and joints
